

Booking Terms and Conditions

Availability: All bookings are subject to room availability. UKSA reserves the right to amend the programme according to the availability of guest speakers and delegate numbers. All fees must be paid in full before the 15th April 2008, after which date if payment is not received the room reserved will be released and a refund, less £60 per person (£30 total for day delegates) will be made, or if payment is late there is a surcharge of £25 per person. Payments due may only be made by cheque, payable to Redmayne-Bentley.

Booking Conditions: Please note that the cost quoted per day includes lunch, teas/coffees and parking but not dinner. If you are intending to stay at the Crowne Plaza, this should be arranged through Redmayne-Bentley, since there are advantageous terms for those attending the conference, especially if two people share a room. Details of cost are shown overleaf. Room availability cannot be guaranteed, so please apply as soon as possible. For those not staying at the conference hotel you should make your own arrangements for dinners and B&B, though day delegates may arrange to join the other delegates for dinner at the hotel at an extra cost (please indicate overleaf).

Refunds if you cancel: Cancellations before 11th April 2008: Full refund of any payments made. Cancellations after 30th March 2008: Residential deposits and fees are not refundable but the organisers will use their best endeavours to refund all but a minimum retention of £60 per person if the organizers have been able to resell the room allocated, or release it, at no cost to UKSA, back to the Hotel. Day delegates will receive a refund of all monies paid less £30 per person. Refunds will be made on or about 15th June 2008. All disclaimers apply.

Refunds in the event of UKSA cancellation: All payments will be refunded in full.

VAT: As UKSA is not VAT registered a VAT invoice cannot be issued in respect of any bookings, but a standard invoice will be issued on request. Members are advised to consult their holiday insurance, which may well cover this event if they are concerned about the risk of cancellation or accidents.

Disclaimers: The following disclaimers should be noted: All meetings are organised and publications issued on behalf of the United Kingdom Shareholders' Association Ltd (UKSA), which is a company limited by guarantee. Views expressed in UKSA publications, by speakers at UKSA meetings and by members of UKSA and their guests in discussion are not necessarily the official views of UKSA. Nothing said in UKSA publications, by speakers at UKSA meetings and by members in discussion is intended to be or should be interpreted as being professional or investment advice. UKSA does not accept any responsibility for personal injuries and losses sustained as a result of attending any UKSA organised event. ONLY persons authorised in accordance with the Financial Services Act, 1986 and subsequent legislation can give investment advice.